

What is Paint Protection Film?

Paint protection film, also known as PPF or clear bra is a typically clear urethane film designed to provide an end all be all solution against damaging impacts like rock chips, parking lot dings and scratches. The film provides an 8 mil thick barrier and features a self-healing, clear coated top layer.

Why Should I Get PPF on My Car?

A new vehicle is generally the second largest investment people make aside from a house. PPF will help protect this investment.

How Long Does Paint Protection Film Last?

Most current films from respectable brands such as STEK, LLumar, Xpel, Suntek and 3M offer a 10-year manufacturer warranty. These warranties covers product defects such as yellowing, fading, cracking, or bubbling.

Want Even Greater Protection?

Consider protecting other areas of your vehicle vulnerable to damage from rocks and other flying debris. We offer essential optional coverage for these areas as well.

Self-Healing

Fine scratches and swirl marks disappear as STEK advanced clear coat self-heals.

Glossy Clear Protection

STEK film is virtually invisible due to its optically clear, zero orange peel finish

Stain Resistant

Unlike low quality films, STEK DYNOshield won't yellow or stain from bird droppings, air pollution or road grime.

Hydrophobic

Our nano-ceramic topcoat is bonded to the film providing extreme hydrophobic properties and virtually eliminating the need for waxes and after-market top coatings.
